I chose to build this website because we just recently got into breeding rag doll kittens and I thought it would be a great start to the website I am going to take live in a few months.
I chose the colors because they are my brand and I chose the font because I think they go well with the sale of ragdolls.

My jQuery effect is the hide/show of my video on the homepage.
I checked for modernizr on my homepage and provided the fall back right underneath it.
All of the pictures are mine.
My animated bar chart is on the Stats page.
My image gallery is on the gallery page.
My html5 video is on the home page and on the video page.
My Canvas uses are on the homepage at the top to create the QVC text and on my video page to create the heading at the top.
